The contractual obligation of our company (Seller) will be fully suspended and will not be held responsible in the events representing the characteristics of Force Majeure even if it is partial, due to events of war, natural catastrophe, fire, explosion, material damage, strike(s), delay in delivery from suppliers or forwarding agents, and other material events. Seller will not be liable for any claims if the Buyer's claim is not sent by email or registered letter a maximum of 8 days from the date of delivery. In all cases, the financial responsibility of the Seller will be limited to the selling price as indicated on the invoice and will not be responsible for any direct or indirect damages, including damages resulting from loss in profits, loss of production, or any consequential damages. The Seller reserves the right to cancel this sale contract and any other sales contract(s) with the buyer if any invoice remains unpaid at due date; in which case the sales contract will be cancelled by email or by registered letter and the date of cancellation will be the date the email was sent or the date the registered letter was dispatched. Any late payment per agreed terms will attract late financial interest at the rate of 10% per year. Any payment received in Seller's account(s) in a currency other than that specified on the invoice will be converted to the currency of the invoice at the date of reception. All delivered goods remain the seller's property until total payment of such invoices. In case of Buyer not settling payment at due dates, the Seller will have the right to reclaim the goods for all invoices outstanding. Should buyer cancel an order, or refuse acceptance of goods, the Seller shall have the right to recover such costs as incurred by the Seller as a result of the Buyer's cancellation and if the Buyer paid a deposit on such order, then the Seller shall retain such deposit. This sales contract will be subject to the Laws of the United States of America and the exclusive competence of its jurisdiction in case of any dispute. Destination Control Statement: These commodities, technology or software were exported from the United States in accordance with the Export Administration Regulations. Diversion contrary to U.S. Law prohibited.
